

WHAT IS A COOKIE

According to Article 22.2 of Law 34/2002, of July 11, on Information Society Services and Electronic Commerce, cookies are a type of data storage and retrieval mechanism used on a user's terminal device for the purpose of storing and retrieving information.

A cookie is a file that is downloaded to your device when accessing a website, allowing the site to recognize the user's device, facilitate navigation, remember preferences, and generally improve the user experience by providing relevant information and services based on the user's interests. Cookies do not store sensitive user information such as credit card or banking data, photos, ID numbers, or other personal information.

TYPES OF COOKIES

We inform our users that this website uses different types of cookies, which may be classified as follows:

- According to the entity that manages them:
 - First-party cookies: cookies generated by the website being visited.
 - Third-party cookies: cookies generated by third-party services that are hosted on our website.
- According to their duration:
 - Session cookies: designed to collect and store data while the user accesses a website. They are not stored on the user's device after the session ends.
 - Persistent cookies: the data remain stored on the user's device and can be accessed and processed for a period defined by the cookie owner.
- According to their purpose:
 - Technical cookies: allow the user to navigate through our website and use the various options or services available. These are also referred to as "strictly necessary" cookies.
 - Personalization cookies: enable the website to remember information so that each user can access the service according to their preferences (language, region, number of results per page, etc.).

- Analytics or performance cookies: allow us to track and analyze user behavior on the website anonymously (e.g., number of visits, navigation patterns).
- Behavioral advertising cookies: store information on user behavior in order to implement efficiency parameters for advertising displayed on the website.
